

Finding Opportunities

Stop looking at job postings!

- 75% of opportunities never make it online*
- 48% of jobs come from referrals

 don't quote me ;)*

Switch your line of thinking

- Find people & companies
- Who is doing work that interests you?
 - This could be a company or a person
- How can you learn more?

How do we find what we're looking for?

Let's start with:

- LinkedIn
- Google
- BuiltIn

Using meetup.com

The screenshot shows the Meetup.com homepage. At the top, a blue banner features a 'Your Next Meetup' section on the left and statistics on the right. The 'Your Next Meetup' section includes a calendar icon for May 18th, the title 'Join us for: You Had Me at Hello: Attract More Clients...', and the date 'Wednesday, May 18 at 9:30 AM | 2 Comments'. The statistics section shows '17 Meetups in your groups' and '2083 Meetups nearby'. Below the banner is a dark navigation bar with a search bar containing 'Javascript|', a location filter 'within 25 miles of Denver, CO', and two buttons: 'Groups' and 'Calendar'. Below the navigation bar is a grid of category tiles. The first tile is 'All Meetups' with an infinity icon. Other tiles include 'Meetups with friends' (with a person icon), 'Fashion & Beauty', 'Fitness', 'Movements & Politics', 'Movies & Film', 'Religion & Beliefs', and 'Sci-Fi & Fantasy'. Two red arrows are present: one pointing to the search bar and another pointing to the 'Calendar' button.

Craftsy enables passionate crafters around the world to learn from expert instructors on their own schedules and in the comfort of their own homes. Since its launch in June 2011, hundreds of thousands of students from more than 180 countries have enrolled in Craftsby classes, paying an average price of $25 - $49 per class.

Craftsy produces engaging, interactive online classes in quilting, sewing, knitting, cake decorating, photography, cooking and more. Each class is taught by an acclaimed instructor and is comprised of several hours of HD-quality video content. The Craftsby online learning platform features proprietary technology that seamlessly blends video lessons and discussions together, allowing students to easily interact with their instructor and classmates. Students can start and stop a class at any point, repeat important sections, and easily pick up where they left off, allowing them to learn on their own schedule.
